

Mexico neuroscientist named to lab board

Vic Kolenc / El Paso Times Staff

Posted: 04/13/2010 12:00:00 AM MDT

EL PASO -- Mexican neuroscientist Pablo Rudomin has been appointed to the board of the Bi-National Sustainability Laboratory in Santa Teresa.

The lab is aimed at developing technology businesses along the U.S.-Mexico border.

Rudomin's studies on presynaptic inhibition in the spinal cord have won him international recognition, the lab said. He is emeritus investigator at the National System of Investigators and Center for Advanced Studies at the National Polytechnic Institute in Mexico.